 Graduate Development Programme

A Highly Rated Graduate Employer

Introduction

The programme below is an example that is currently being delivered to a major UK Charity. The organisation employs over 3,000 people and is currently rated 38th in the Times Top 100 Graduate Employers.

Graduates covered by this programme have been deployed across a number of departments including Fund Raising, Marketing and Corporate Services.

Online Portal

To support the graduates working in different locations, The Development Company has designed and delivered an online portal.

The portal allows the graduates, trainers and managers to access and share information online. Course schedules, course content and work books are available online. There is also an online forum where the graduates can post assignment work and discuss topics.

What each individual can see or change is dependent upon their security setting.

Programme Outline

The development programme is designed to deliver a mixed set of skills and competencies.
