The Development Company UK Limited

Developing People Since 1999

Since 1999 The Development Company has been providing learning and development programmes for organisations large and small, public and private.

Recognising that needs vary from organisation to organisation, the company has focused on providing courses and events that are tailored to meet the specific requirement.

By adopting a flexible and pragmatic attitude, the programmes are delivered to maximise the impact and relevance to the delegates.

Over ninety per cent of The Development Company's business comes from three sources:

1. New programmes for existing clients
2. Personal recommendation from existing clients
3. Key personnel that move from one organisation to another and decide to repeat the experience within their new organisation
