Creating and Delivering High Impact Presentations

People have rated the prospect of public speaking (presentation) more fearful than dying! When asked to choose between presenting in public or dying, the majority choose the more drastic option.

Benefit

This course is designed for individuals who would like to improve their presentation technique to allow them to deliver professional presentations. Participants will:

- Learn the tricks and techniques to design and deliver high impact presentations
- Understand how to enhance their presentation through the use of visual aids, voice and body posture
- Gain the confidence required to deliver memorable presentations when it really matters

Content

This course focuses on the impact that can be generated by planning, designing and delivering a presentation.

Using voice, body posture and visual aids will be discussed then each participant will deliver at least one presentation that will be critiqued and reviewed by the instructor and other delegates.
